

GUILLERMO DEL TORO

Guillermo Del Toro is one of my biggest inspirations. His work puts me in awe, his creativity astounds me, he is the one that makes me want to become better at what I do.

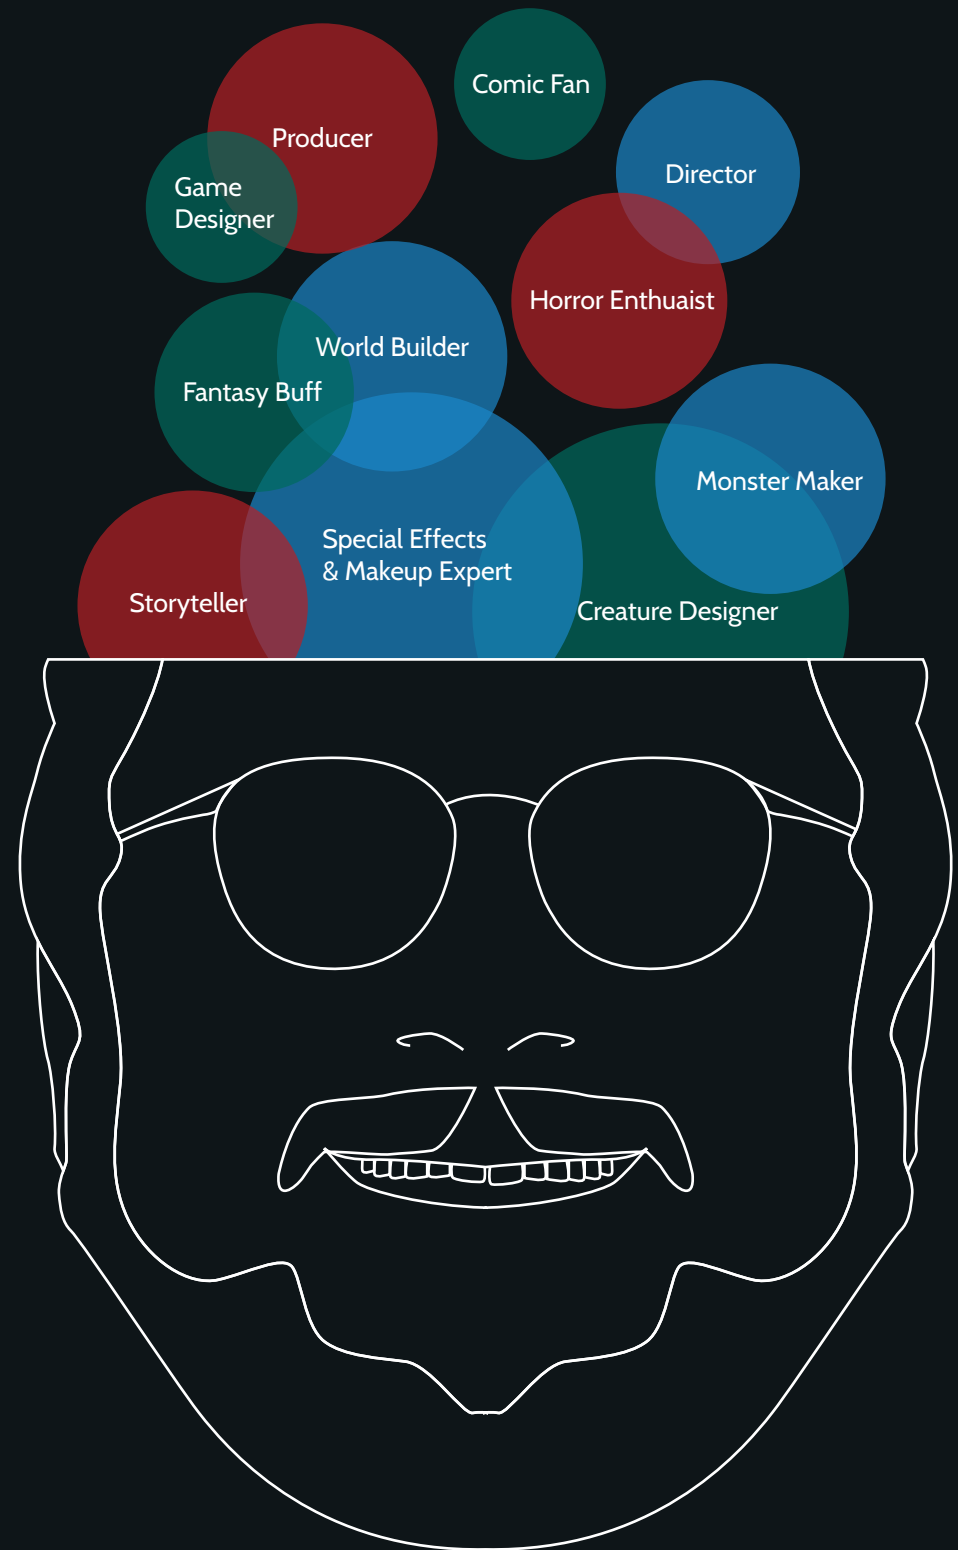

In honour of his newest film, Crimson Peak (which was filmed in my city and completely regret not stalking the set to see him), coming out I decided to do this next set of infographics about his work.

Anthony Bellavia 2015

 @graphicprologue

 @bella.via

 anthonybellavia.com

ONE MAN ARMY

Del Toro has been involved in a number of films throughout his career. While he started in special effects he has written, directed, produced, sometimes all three at once. He is well known for some films but others you may be surprised he had a hand in creating them.

First Film

Dona Lupe

ALL DA GENRES

Del Toro may be known for horror/fantasy, he has worked on a number of different film genres throughout his career.

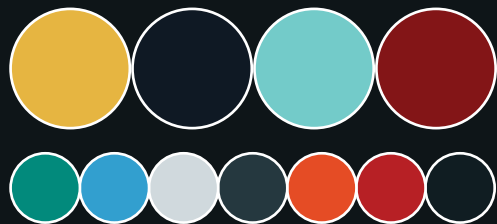

Appearances in Horror/Fantasy Documentaries 30

Total Appearances in Documentaries 47

Common Film Palette

There are common colours Del Toro's films seem to use over and over.

Own Film Cameos

Del Toro has made about a dozen cameos but only half were in his own films.

5 Cronos
Don't be Afraid of the Dark
Hellboy
Hellboy 2
Puss in Boots

Top Grossing Film

Pacific Rim was the top grossing live-action movie worldwide based on a new IP.

Pacific Rim
$400 Million